JANUARY
WEEK 4
INFANTS

Welcome to January

As January comes to a close, we will focus on reviewing and reinforcing the wonderful concepts and skills introduced this month. This week, we'll revisit highlights from Kwanzaa, Ice and Snow, and Martin Luther King Jr. themes to strengthen learning and create lasting connections.

This Week's Theme

- Theme: Review Week
- Focus: Revisiting concepts from the past 3 weeks
- Key Highlights: Sensory exploration, motor skill practice, and social bonding.

Activities and Highlights

- Language & Phonics: Explore tactile books, practice "Aa" and "Dd" sounds with flashcards, and engage in letter scavenger hunts.
- Math & Science: Build and count with blocks, participate in shape hunts, and revisit sensory bags with ice, water, and oil.
- Social Studies: Reflect on family photo books, observe Arctic weather, and participate in Kwanzaa-themed caregiver reflections.
- Creative Arts: Create snow patterns, water painting, and snowy finger painting activities.
- Motor Development: Practice tummy time with square toys, balance practice, and grasping and rolling soft balls.

Reminders

- Label Everything: Please label all bottles, pacifiers, and extra clothes.
- Extra Clothes: Send weather-appropriate extra outfits for your child.
